

TO EVERY WOMAN IN MASON COUNTY

Every wife, mother, daughter, sister, friend wants to remove from our county. State and Nation the sale of alcoholic beverages. If your own heart and life have not suffered from the effects of intoxicating drink, there is not one but knows some one who has thus suffered and you are not insensible to the sufferings of others. Though you may not yet have endured the pain and humiliation caused by the drink habit, so long as it remains in our midst you cannot feel your safety guaranteed. Your hearts and prayers are right.

NOW WORK AS YOU PRAY.

Now is the time to give your name and one dollar to the WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION and by so much aid the struggle that is now on to take the curse and temptation of strong drink out of our county on September 28th.

WE NEED YOUR HELP RIGHT NOW—TODAY—to win this election. Your name will have influence and your dollar will help in the campaign of education. It will buy literature and stamps, help pay speakers and for space in the newspapers, lively bills, telephone and telegraph bills, rent for room in which to hold meetings, etc., etc.

And just here be it understood that no worker in the city or county is receiving one cent of compensation for his services, except Miss Wilson, who has for months given all her time from early till late in office work. Up to date she has been paid nothing and no sum has been promised her. She says first pay all other expenses and if there is anything left when the election is over she can be paid. So much for the need and uses of money.

"MY PEOPLE PERISH FOR LACK OF KNOWLEDGE." Help carry the facts to them. Help stir them to right action. If we win, help win that you may have a share in the joy of victory; if we lose, do not have to suffer the remorse of feeling that you did nothing to help.

WE NEED A STRONG ORGANIZATION FOR THE FUTURE AS WELL AS THE PRESENT.

We want first to win on September 28. If we do not win, we want at once to go to work for victory in another campaign when another election is called. If we win, we want united effort to increase the "dry" majority to support the law and to elect officers who will enforce the law.

Whether we win or lose we want to elect a representative in the next session of the General Assembly who will cast Mason County's vote for State-Wide Prohibition and to elect a representative in the National Congress who will cast the vote of the Ninth Congressional District of Kentucky for Nation-wide Prohibition.

THE WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION has for many years been a powerful agency in educating the public mind and creating public sentiment.

THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE is the most effective agency yet devised for crystalizing that opinion and sentiment into votes. We need more public opinion and more sentiment created by the W. C. T. U. for the ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE to work on. Both organizations have their work to do and working together are invincible.

THE STRENGTH OF THE WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION in any community depends upon the women in that community. Every Christian woman in Maysville and Mason county should belong to or work with the local union and the strongest women in the county should be its officers. If the W. C. T. U. in any community is weak, it is the fault of those who are not in it, not of those who are.

JOIN THE MASON COUNTY WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION AT ONCE.

Send your name to Mrs. John Powers, President, Third street, Maysville, and your dollar to Mrs. G. W. Geisel, Treasurer, Front street, Maysville.

LEND A HAND! DO IT NOW!

Bad Goat Sinners.

I'm now arrived—thanks to the gods!—Thro, pathways rough and muddy, A certain sign that makin' roads Is not this people's study; Altho' I'm not with Scripture cramm'd, I'm sure the Bible says That heedless sinners shall be damn'd Unless they mend their ways.

—Robert Burns.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Of The Forest Avenue Parent-Teacher Association Held Yesterday Afternoon at Forest Avenue School.

The initial fall meeting of the Forest Avenue Parent-Teacher Association, held yesterday afternoon at the Forest Avenue school building, was a very enthusiastic one, there being a full attendance present.

The first business attended to was the election of new officers for the ensuing year, and this was attended by intense interest, showing that all those present had only the good of furthering the interests of education in the community and the following were elected:

President—Mrs. W. E. Stalleup.
First Vice President—Mrs. James ... Hall.

Second Vice President—Mrs. James Childs.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mrs. Paannie Davis.

The new committees will be announced at the next meeting.

A vote of thanks was extended the Board of Education for the repairs and beautifying the interior of the school building in such a satisfactory manner. All members were loud in their praises over the interior of this school and to show the appreciation of the association it was decided to install a handsome piano, to be the property of the Forest Avenue School and to be used by the pupils in the furthering of their musical training under the efficient teaching of Miss Hanselman. It being voted to hold a reception after the installation of the piano to show the public what a live Parent-Teacher Association means to a school.

LONELINESS OF PRESIDENTS

It is a safe thing to say that there is no lonelier man in the world today than Woodrow Wilson. One of the prices that any man pays for high eminence is the loss, to a very considerable degree, of the ordinary personal and human relations. Taft found it so when he became President, and he bewailed the fact but could not change it.

It was one of the first things that Mr. Wilson noted, and in a half comic, half pathetic talk to the members of the National Press Club, many months ago, he expressed his sense of isolation and the feeling that he had come to rank as a sort of impersonal exhibition, like the National Museum, the Washington Monument or the Smithsonian Institution.

He is, moreover, the type of man whose life is largely within himself, and a man of that type, no matter how hard he may try and no matter how much he may mingle with men of all classes, is bound to have a certain aloofness that he can never overcome. One writer observed months ago that "it may be doubted that we have ever had in the higher public life of this country a man so detached, so essentially solitary."—Current Opinion.

THE AMENITIES OF WAR

There was a time when even educated men held that it was one's duty to hate and detest the enemy during war and to rejoice in his agony and misery. Cruel and barbarous as war is, we have at least abandoned that monstrous notion. There is evidence that in the present war—made by autocrats and medieval military and diplomatic minds—the peoples engaged in the conflict hate one another. There is much evidence to the contrary. A French officer sends word to the mother of a German aviator that "the brave fellow" died of injuries while framing a message for her at home. The brave German speaks of the "kindness of the French officers." The first lord of the British admiralty asks the United States to convey a message to a German admiral that his son is safe and unharmed. Returned tourists say that many Germans express profound regret that the French, who did not seek war, should, under the compulsion of necessity and strategy, have to pay so heavy a price for their alliance with Russia. Finally, in the statements issued by the respective war offices, the gallantry and courage of the fighters on the other side are frankly recognized and almost praised.—(From The Chicago Tribune.)

CRUELTY OF WAR

Never were the cruelties of war more forcibly shown than in the present compulsory action by which the residents of the outskirts of Paris are called upon to destroy their homes. Many of the people lack resources and much suffering is certain to result. Surely the present conflict has no mercy.—Buffalo Commercial.

This is a bad year for rats. On top of the New Orleans war of extermination comes the news that a cat with two heads has been born in New Jersey.—Louisville Times.

That the big war in Europe will end in less than sixty days is a pretty safe bet.

THE CHRISTMAS SHIP

Idealistic and thoroughly American is the plan inaugurated by the Chicago American to have American children send to the war orphans in stricken Europe a great Christmas ship. A message of this kind from the children of the United States to the children of the old country will go far toward relieving the gloom which will be felt most during Yuletide.

The plan is still in the formative period. But there is ample time in which to collect funds, provide for a shipload of gifts, and arrange with the various governments for their safe transportation and delivery. It will be a huge undertaking, but one which should win hearty and liberal support.

Christmas of 1914 will at best be a heart-breaking event in millions of European homes. In thousands there will be no fathers or brothers to provide the traditional gifts. American children it may be taken for granted, will eagerly share their abundance with the pathetic little girls and boys of the Old World, who otherwise may have to go without the things that to the juvenile heart are the symbols of the Christmas spirit.—Winchester (Ky.) Sun.

STREAK OF MEANNESS

Burns sings of "man's inhumanity to man," but, of course, he includes woman, too. This often happens. On an open trolley, the other day, a lady requested another to move over a bit, when the latter angrily responded "move over yourself," and refused to budge, so the lady got into a back seat, where they made room. In a little while the woman accosted left the car, but all this time she nursed her wrath, for as she stepped off she spitefully said to the other, "think people must move over for you—not much!"

Scenes like this often happen. As a general rule women are ruder than men. They consider it a right to retain the whole space, if they are the first to occupy it. There is no accounting for this on any psychological grounds, except upon doctrine of original sin. No person who is educated or cultured will treat another that way. In fact, he will move over without being asked to.—(From the Ohio State Journal.)

STRONG LANGUAGE

The war in Europe goes on and prices in the United States go up. This ought to serve as a reminder to even the fool that it is far better to produce a thing at home than it is to purchase it abroad.—Preston Journal, W. Va.

LABOR'S DAY

Just now, when millions are fireeely destroying, a day devoted to those who create, to the fruitful instead of the destructive energies, has a particular lesson and felicity.—Sun, New York.

OR THE SUNDAY SUPPLEMENTS

"American humor is declining," says a writer in The Nineteenth Century. Most of it is at least declined, to judge from the comic papers.—Chicago Herald.

"ME, TOO"

Perhaps Mr. Marshall, Vice-President, is also a candidate for re-election.—World, New York.

DO IT NOW

Maysville People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due largely to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms often give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer may slip gradually into some serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they act where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

Mrs. S. Neal, 497 W. Second St., Maysville, Ky., says: "One of my favorite had a great deal of trouble from his back and kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills made him better and he always praises them."

Mrs. Neal is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Neal recommends—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. WAR SHOULD NOT CAUSE US TO FORGET

That the Change from Protection to Free-Trade is an Error That Must Be Rectified.

While the European war for the time being removes the curse of the new Tariff, we must not forget. This "half-baked" measure is a menace as long as it is on our statute books, and the preliminary test will come this fall as to whether or not a majority of our people approve the experiment that opened our markets to foreign competition, where the wide difference in wages removes every hope of fair competition.

War or peace, the fact remains that we have Tariff laws that are wrong, and conditions abroad that prevent the textile manufacturers of England Germany and France from reaping the benefits do not excuse the law in any way. It is a serious danger so long as it is a law, and its repeal depends entirely upon the voters, who should express themselves in no uncertain manner in the choice of Congressmen this fall.

The damage caused by this Tariff cannot be expressed, and it is no fault of its backers that any change is to take place. The European war naturally calls for the men workers in the mills, and imports from leading countries of competition is practically at an end. How much this will benefit the American mills can only be determined in the future. If we are going to have a shortage of dyestuffs, the gains naturally expected will be more than overcome, and what fashion might decree is likely to be changed by conditions beyond control. Any textile boom is not occasioned by the Tariff, and in principle, if not in fact, it is just as serious a menace to home industry as it ever was.

Probably our European competitors will have their hands full for some years to come in looking after their own affairs. We expect increased business for home mills, even unprecedented business, and the opening of new fields for our cotton goods particularly but we do not want to get nicely under way and in a few years face the setback of serious foreign competition; so the only wise thing to do is to change the powers at Washington, so we can have a safe Tariff law as a basis for industry to expand on.

Naturally, public sentiment in regard to the Tariff has undergone a change not because the Tariff is right, but because of more stirring affairs abroad. But the fact must not be lost sight of that we have this dangerous law in force and for future safety the voters should see that it is changed at the proper time.—Fibre and Fabric.

WAR ON SICKNESS.

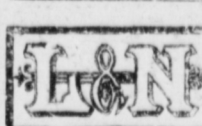

War has been declared on industrial sickness by the American Association for Labor Legislation. Following the successful campaign for accident compensation which now has captured the principal states, a committee of the nation's experts who have been working quietly on plans for a year and a half, declares that sickness insurance must be established with emphasis on medical care in order that it shall lead to a campaign of health conservation similar to the "safety first" movement resulting from accident compensation. The committee includes such leading authorities as Henry R. Seger, Miles M. Dawson, Edward T. Devine and Dr. I. M. Rubinow of New York, Charles R. Henderson of Chicago University, Henry J. Harris of the Library of Congress, and Carroll W. Doten of Boston and has the cooperation of expert legislative draftsmen and leading representatives of workmen and employers. The Association for Labor Legislation called the first American conferences on Occupational Diseases in 1910 and on Social Insurance in 1913, and announces it is now drafting bills for a vigorous legislative campaign to initiate the movement for sickness insurance in the United States.

It is a cinch that the preacher who advised us to love our neighbors never stopped to reflect that maybe our wives would object.

There are a whole lot of unselfish himself.

Why is it a bartender will never

What has become of the old-fash-

him swearing?

We are always too busy to push a hill. But we are never too busy to shove him when he starts down hill.

BORDEAUX, THE WAR CAPITAL OF FRANCE.

Bordeaux—a city of southwestern France, 359 miles south of southwest of Paris, on the Gironde River, 60 miles from the sea, and 125 miles from the Spanish frontier. In 1911, the city had a population of 261,678. Under the Roman Empire, Bordeaux became a flourishing commercial city, and the capital of Aquitania Secunda. It belonged to the English kings from 1154 to 1153, when it was taken by Charles VII, of France. It was the headquarters of the Girondists during the Revolution, and during the Reign of Terror suffered severely. In 1870 the French government was transferred to Bordeaux from Tours (to which it had been removed from Paris) on the approach of the Germans to Tours. The trade of Bordeaux, the fourth port of France, is chiefly carried on by sea. From 1,000 to 1,200 vessels can be accommodated in the harbor. The most important industry is ship-building and refitting, iron-clads and torpedo-boats, as well
as merchant vessels are constructed.
The city is the center of trade in "Bordeaux" wines. Other principal exports are brandy, hides and skins, sugar, rice, woolen and cotton goods, salt fish, chemicals, oil-cake, pitwood, fruit, potatoes and other vegetables. There are also four mills, sugar refineries, chemical works, machine shops and potteries.

WAR CRIMPS SALE OF THE COT- TON CROP.

The war has given a pretzel-like twist
to the channels of commerce. No ship that leaves a port under cover of the night is sure to lower her mud hook in a neutral and friendly harbor.
Countries now tearing the throats of one another annually import 2,500,000,000 pounds of the American cotton. Therefore there is entered up in the Southern family ledgers the following:
2,500,000,000 pounds of cotton eliminated from foreign markets.
Average value of fiber is placed at 10 cents a pound.
Deficit therefore will be a snug little fortune of $250,000,000.

The Southern growers have asked the Government to finance a deal whereby it will be possible to carry this deficit.
Every effort is being made in this direction.

EUROPE AS IT IS.

To the Editor of The Lexington Herald:

The following letter ament the war
situation in Europe was received in Lexington and is added to you with the request that it be printed in your Forum Column. The letter follows:
"Humburg, Germany, Sept. 1, 1914.

"My Dear Snitel—Things are not so soft in Brussels since the Kaiser warmed up Greece enough to cook
Turkey. It will not be long before Nancy will be using Cologne to destroy the smell that comes from Switzerland.
Speaking about stingy people, it is the "Dutch." They'll not Servia a Frankfort or Hamburg nevertheless they have been known to retreat. It looks as though the Czar of Russia may use Warsaw to cut down the poles in the event they become of no service. The Kaiser, on the other hand, will say,
"Fosen he does," it will not Berno things up. Italy, the home of spaghetti and garlic, seems to Rome at large,
wells His Majesty, the King, says
"Mian shall be in peace with the world. Before this war is half settled, Germany will have Rheims to write about. While it looks as though there is Norway out of this whole war matter, the folks in the U. S. A. say:
"What is the use of Holland when the crowned heads can't keep the States from Balkan." Austria's Hungary to get into Paris, while the Lyons are just as anxious to take the Rhine away from the Dutch. The Kaiser's one ambition is to take Paris and when he does, he will proceed to run the Frenchmen all in-Seine. Scotland seems to be Dublin with England to (Amster) Dam
the Strait of Dover, which will keep the Dutch out of the English Channel.
Should the Kaiser find out that he hasn't a Pekin with the Japs, Denmark
ry word doesn't declare war against Iceland and then play freeze-out with the little Eskimos.

WONDERFUL FISH STORY.

J. J. Shaver related a wonderful fish story to his friends and one of them
told the Messenger reporter about it.
It sounds remarkable, but is given for the truth. Mr. Shaver has been on a fishing trip to Cypress Creek and says that while there he caught ninety-one big, fine fish in such a smooth manner that he was shocked. He placed an empty tow sack over the small end of a log and with a stick stirred the water inside, which resulted in nearly one hundred fish flopping into the sack.—May

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Great workers are performed not by strength, but by perseverance.

The most distinguished Frenchman
of the last century said: "Men succeed less by their talents than by their characters." How true this is of the teacher, who to a great extent is to become responsible for the characters of his pupils. Children will imitate. Have a character, worthy of imitation.

Spurgeon, the great English preacher, said: "The doorstep to the temple of wisdom is knowledge of our own ignorance." How true it is, when we first find out how small our knowledge of any subject is, that we see how much is to be learned and how we go to work with greater zeal to fathom the subject to its lowest depths. As we think that we know what is to be learned of any subject we stop our growth. The more we study and learn the more we see to be learned.

Page, in his "Theory and Practice of Teaching," says: "It is a mistake that many teachers fall into, that they seem to regard government as their chief occupation; and, as we should naturally expect in such cases, it is often very poorly exercised. That is not the best government, which is maintained as a matter of formal business. The noiseless under-current is far more efficient.
I have always noticed that men govern
best when they do not seem to govern;
and those who make most effort and bustle about it themselves are pretty sure to have the most boisterous schools.

HOLD FAST

To Lower Street Viaduct Opening To
The River.—Chesapeake & Ohio
Railroad Company's Proposal
To Fill Up Being Opposed.

(Thursday's Bulletin.)

The proposal of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company to City Council, made through Local Agent W. W.
Wickoff at last Monday night's monthly meeting, to fill up the north end of Lower street to a track level, thus cutting off the under-viaduct access to the river, is not being looked upon kindly by some of our citizens who will vigorously oppose the plan. The Bulletin man was approached last night by two prominent men who have large river interests and they are pronounced in their disapproval of such a thing. Said one of them:

"I am surprised that our municipal body, which is composed of intelligent, thinking business men, would entertain
for a moment, any such proposition.
Why, that opening to the river is one of the very things that we should preserve and cherish. I remember the time, as do many others, when the landing at the foot of Lower street was much used, and because it is not so employed now does not necessarily mean that it will never again be needed.
When the nine-foot stage in the Ohio
is an accomplished fact you will see river traffic restored to its old-time prestige and we'll need every outlet from the river that we have and then some. I believe that if our Council men will pause long enough to think they will realize this truth, reject the C. & O.'s 'beautifying' plan and hold fast to the Lower street viaduct opening."

True Toasted Corn

Is as different from commonplace corn flakes, as succulent green sweet corn is different from the hard flinty, yellow grain of the farmer's corn crib.

In spite of the numerous "corn flakes" marketed, few persons really know the rich sweetness of choice corn when skillfully cooked, floured and toasted.

This true toasted corn—distinctive in its rich, rare flavour—is called

Post Toasties

A call for "corn flakes" often brings some one of the many brands of ordinary corn flakes. To avoid disappointment ask for and insist upon Post Toasties.

This food can be distinguished by the original yellow package; by the rich, true corn flavour imprisoned in the making; and by the size and tender crispness of the golden brown flakes.

Toasties are ready to serve hot or cold, with cream or good milk—also with fresh fruit in season. A further delicate flavour may be released by heating a few minutes in oven before serving. And it's a flavour worth knowing.

No advance in price of Post Toasties.

RUSSIANS SWEEPING THROUGH EUROPE

Three Million Men Battling Along French Line---
Germans Driven Back

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

London, Eng., Sept. 10.—The crucial battle of the war in France has not yet reached any decisive result. Field marshal Sir John French, commander of the British forces reported today that Germans had been driven back along the line; that the British had crossed the Marne; that the Germans had suffered severely and that their men were supposed to be in a very exhausted condition.

Yet the military experts do not rush to sweeping conclusions. The military writers in the London papers repeat, judging from the official statement yesterday, it is too early to anticipate the result of a battle extending over a front of nearly 100 miles. Three million men is the number estimated to be engaged actively and as reserves and three great battles at least are in progress.

Probably the fiercest struggle is against the French center between Rheims and Verdun, while the British army is contesting the second hard fought engagement against the German right. The Germans are believed to be still attacking the French right from Verdun to Nancy.

Lesser fighting is in progress in Alsace, from which province the Germans had drawn away part of their army and the French are taking advantage of this opening.

That the German navy has not been without enterprise it revealed in the announcement today that the British cruiser Pathfinder, was destroyed by a German submarine, not by a mine as was at first supposed. The German craft which ventured so far from its base is given credit for its enterprise.

North Sea May Be Closed.
Another mine disaster, the victim of which was the French steamer Ottawa, has been added to the list and the advisability of closing the North Sea to merchant shipping is being discussed.

Another Wireless From Berlin.
As official dispatch issued in Berlin and received here by the Marconi Wireless Company says:
"In an engagement on the railway between Antwerp and Ghent, the Belgian troops withdrew.

"The country south of Antwerp has been flooded by the Belgians to prevent Germans from entering the town. The area covered by the flood is seventy square miles. The water varies in depths at different places from a few inches to several feet.

"BAD ANNIE" SKIPPED OUT.

Annie McDonald, colored, who was placed under $100 peace bond by Judge Whitaker, broke the peace and was forced to vacate by Dillie Morton, Fannie Ewing, Mary Ball and several other women of her neighborhood. They do say they made Annie go some. As the Judge has promised to give her the "limit" on her return, it is not thought likely that Annie will infest these parts again in the very near future.

PAIGE
MAYBE it is an old fashioned idea this notion of putting all the value possible into the car itself—and as little as possible into overhead expense—

But it has given the Paige a positively dominant position among cars of medium price—

Ample capital for operating purposes—no bonded indebtedness—no excessive capitalization—no heavy overhead of any kind to be paid for.

Just a full dollar of car value for every dollar of the selling price.

Is it any wonder that the Paige is going to be oversold again this year in spite of increased production?
